

Your Missouri Legislature

2010 LEGISLATIVE WRAP

At the end of the legislative session, the MO House passed and sent to the Governor legislation which Missouri Right to Life recommended and pushed for several years.

SB 793 ensures that 24 hours before having an abortion, a mother will be offered the opportunity to view an ultrasound and hear her child's heartbeat. She will also be given information on the development of her child, the alternatives to abortion services, the risks involved in an abortion, and information about the financial responsibility of the father under Missouri law. In addition, SB 793 allows Missouri to opt out of abortion coverage in federal health insurance exchanges that operate in Missouri.

Sen. Rob Mayer, Rep. Bryan Pratt and Rep. Cynthia Davis sponsored this legislation in the Senate and the House respectively. SB 793 passed with bipartisan support from 26 Senate members and 114 House members.

Rep. Bryan Pratt and Rep. Cynthia Davis, House sponsors of SB 793, with Susan Klein, Missouri Right to Life Lobbyist.

Other Prolife Legislation

In spite of the budgeting concerns, the legislature maintained ninety percent of the funding for alternatives to abortion services. The Governor has maintained this funding.

Protective Language in Economic Development Legislation

Missouri Right to Life was successful in adding prolife protective language in the Department of Economic Development appropriations bill giving clear direction to the Missouri Technology Corporation which selects the companies that will receive state money for life science research projects. This protective language prohibits any company that would seek to do life-destroying research from receiving state money.

Thank You, Legislators

On behalf of all of the prolife citizens in Missouri, thank you to all legislators who supported life-saving legislation with their voices and their votes. With the close of this session, we will see a large turnover of legislators leaving the General Assembly. We are losing some very good friends. We pray that any prolife legislators who are lost will be replaced by others who also believe that innocent human life must be protected in the laws of our state.

Pam Fichter, MRL President, with Sen. Rob Mayer, Senate sponsor of SB 793.

Mark Your Calendar for Possible Veto Session on September 15

At the printing of this newsletter, SB 793 is still awaiting the Governor's signature. We pray that the Governor will sign this life-saving legislation and that a veto override is unnecessary. However, if the Governor vetoes SB 793, MRL is prepared to go into veto session. Please reserve the date of Wednesday, September 15 in case a veto override is needed. Your presence in Jefferson City will be vital to an override effort.

MRL Stands Strong for You

Governor Jay Nixon called a special session of the Missouri legislature that began on June 24. One of the issues to be addressed was the so-called "Manufacturing Jobs Act," which provides tax credits to certain businesses.

As originally proposed during the regular session, this legislation provided tax credits for only the automobile industry, and Missouri Right to Life (MRL) took no position. However, it was amended to include tax credits for businesses that could engage in unethical research such as Life Sciences Research. MRL then opposed the legislation unless unethical research was specifically prevented. The legislation failed to pass during the regular session. MRL has taken this same position at the time of this printing while special session is in progress. We distributed a memo to legislators and sent a letter to the Governor requesting restrictive language.

Missouri Right to Life Political Action Committee Endorsement Criteria

Missouri Right to Life Political Action Committee (MRL PAC) was established as the political action arm of Missouri Right to Life with the express directive to endorse candidates for political office who, according to MRL PAC bylaws and criteria, would be the best and most effective voice for the unborn. The MRL PAC has long-established and proven endorsement criteria to make this all-important determination.

MRL PAC strives to elect prolife candidates by supporting those candidates who meet the standards set by the MRL PAC and have the best chance of winning. This combination requires that we consider the unique dynamics and political realities of each race. Since it is impossible to predict all political circumstances, MRL PAC will exercise prudential judgment in the application of the endorsement criteria. MRL PAC can and will consider a withdrawal of an endorsement if a situation arises in which it feels that such action is warranted.

MRL PAC endorsements are:

1. Non-Partisan - not based on a particular political party or a party platform but on an individual candidate's fulfillment of MRL PAC endorsement criteria.

2. Based solely on MRL PAC bylaws and criteria - endorsements are made by the MRL PAC based on established criteria.

What are the major guidelines, procedures and criteria for endorsement?

- Prolife - First and foremost, a candidate must be prolife. A candidate must complete an MRL PAC survey establishing in writing their position on abortion, euthanasia, human cloning, embryonic stem cell research, and other prolife issues that fall under the purview of MRL issues.

- Other Considerations - MRL PAC may consider history of activism and involvement in prolife work for non-incumbents or challengers. Additionally, candidate interviews, public statements, and input from the district may be part of the endorsement process.

- Incumbency - The MRL PAC believes that an incumbent running for re-election to the same seat - who has consistently voted to protect innocent human life - deserves the unwavering support of the PAC regardless of opponent. Therefore, the MRL PAC will endorse the incumbent running for re-election provided that incumbent has maintained an acceptable prolife voting record.

- Voting record - When a candidate has held office, whether running for the same seat or a different seat, MRL PAC will consider up to a four-year voting record to determine a candidate's eligibility for endorsement. The percentage of prolife votes required for endorsement is determined by MRL PAC.

- Surveys - The MRL PAC will send surveys to all major party candidates who file to run for office. A signed, completed, and satisfactory survey is required for MRL PAC endorsement.

- Party affiliation - The MRL PAC makes endorsements in both major political parties, although not in all districts or races.

- Voter Party Preference - Voter preference and allegiance to a particular political party can be a factor in determining if the PAC will become involved in a particular district. Some districts are considered "safe" districts for either the Democratic or the Republican candidate. For example, if a political party makes up from 60-100% of the voters in a particular district, then any other party's candidate stands practically no chance of winning. It is very difficult in such districts to get voters to "cross-over" to vote for a candidate who represents that minority political party. Therefore, electability is taken into account when MRL PAC makes endorsements. The MRL PAC must look to use its resources effectively in those areas in which it can possibly make a difference in the outcome of a race.

- All Meet Criteria - In races where there is no prolife incumbent and where all candidates meet the MRL PAC endorsement criteria, the MRL PAC will do multiple endorsements.

- Dynamics of a race - In a race with two or more prolife candidates and one or more viable anti-life candidates, or viable candidates whose position is unknown, MRL PAC will likely endorse a single candidate in hopes of avoiding a split in the prolife vote. The political realities and circumstances of a political race will also be considered.

- Viability - MRL PAC will attempt to determine the viability of a candidate when considering an endorsement.

- Candidate ratings - MRL PAC will assign a rating to all candidates to give the best possible information to voters as to where a candidate is positioned on our issues. MRL PAC uses the following ratings:

100% - a perfect voting record for up to four years

PL - prolife positions on life issues as determined by the steps outlined above. For those who have held office, this includes a prolife voting record on the required votes.

M - mixed voting record or positions on prolife issues

AL - anti-life voting record or positions

NR - no response, incomplete response, or missing Missouri Right to Life PAC or National Right to Life PAC survey

Missouri Right to Life PAC Endorsements for August 3rd Primary Election

Today I have given you the choice between life and death,
between blessings
and curses. Now I call on heaven and earth to witness the choice you make.

Oh, that you would choose life, so that you and your descendants might live!

Deuteronomy 30:19
